

LORD, what would I do without you? I am the vacant room and you are the great guest who has deigned to visit it.

Lord, what would you do without me? You are the great silent harp and I am the ephemeral hand which awakens your melodies.